Dear Member

We probably have just had one of the biggest weekends in the clubs history, Old England XI and Grant Elliott's farewell. The whole weekend was put together by Miff, Bob, Angela Vandal, Nikki and Glynis and considering we have only been open for just over 3 months it was a splendid effort. With something as big as this there are bound to be 1 or 2 hiccups, they have all been taken on board and hope they don't occur again. We will always have the same section of people moaning as they have been doing it for as long as I have known them it has very little effect because they will always be complaining. I don't have to tell you who you are, because you must know who you are.

On the field all teams are going in the right direction but the 1st XI must make sure they continue to do what Grant has started. I do realise people dislike change but it is inevitable so please try and adjust after all we have only been open for 3 months.

Ever your humble servant.

Regards
